

Acmena (syn. Syzygium) smithii 'BWNFIR' Firescreen™

FIRESCREEN LILLY PILLY TREE

An attractive Australian native fast-growing shrub/small tree. It has a slightly broader leaf than regular Acmena smithii, with a semi pendulous, dense growth habit to ground level. The new growth is glossy and copper red in colour, maturing to mid green.

Excellent hedging, screening, or topiary plant which can be pruned heavily. Can also be planted in pots or containers.

Prefers a full sun position to part shade. Handles wind, heatwaves and cold weather well. May require irrigation in long periods of drought.
