

Arbutus canariensis

CANARY ISLANDS STRAWBERRY TREE, MADRONE

This tree has bold foliage and produces large panicles of white bell-like flowers throughout the year and somewhat knobby-looking fruit that turn red over time. The bark of this tree is showy, changing from dark orange in most seasons to mid-purple depending on extreme heat and sun. The trunk is smooth with shedding bark.

Arbutus are fabulous small ornamental trees that are suitable for parks and gardens.

Prefers well-drained soils with some irrigation.
