

Citrus sinensis 'Washington Navel Orange'

The Washington Navel is a popular backyard orange grown in Australia. This small to medium tree forms a rounded shape with glossy leaves and small, richly scented white flowers. This tree is perfect for the home orchard supplying tasty, seedless oranges in mid winter.

Lovely small tree that is perfect for the backyard. It can also be kept in a container or pot.

Prefers a humus rich soil in a sunny position. Most fruit trees require pruning to maintain quality fruit.
