Tree	 Viburnum tinus LAURESTINUS, SWEET VIBURNUM TREE
Description	This tough, shrub-like tree has a dense growth habit with glossy dark green leaves which develop purplish tones in cold weather. One of the major highlights of this variety is its clusters of spectacular pinkish white flower heads which are highly fragrant and can flower over a long period throughout the year, with its peak flowering period being winter and spring. This variety is a relatively fast grower making it an excellent choice for quickly establishing an informal hedge.
