

Corylus avellana 'Contorta'

CRAZY FILBERT, CORKSCREW HAZEL

This is a unique-looking shrub growing 2-4 m in ideal conditions. Foliage is light green and serrated, turning yellow in autumn. The main feature becomes apparent after leaf drop when the twisted branches are clearly visible, adding a dramatic sculptural presence to the landscape. Yellow hanging catkins are produced on the bare branches.

Great as a feature shrub in a small garden. Can be planted in groups to create a dramatic display and border.

Prefers a sunny position.
