

Ficus carica 'White Adriatic'

WHITE ADRIATIC EDIBLE FIG

Unsurpassed for flavour when ripened on the tree, this medium to large sized fig has an excellent sweet flavour. The tree generally crops once per year with fruit which is very easy to peel when it ripens in late Summer-early Autumn. Green to yellow skinned, the flesh is a rich, strawberry red and is a great variety for making jams, drying or eating fresh. This is a self-fertile variety, but will benefit from other varieties. 'White Adriatic' works well in both cold-temperate and sub-tropic areas as it requires low chill hours.

Makes an attractive specimen and productive tree for fruit. A nice selection for Mediterranean inspired gardens. Commonly used commercially for drying, jam and canning.

Prefers a well-drained or moist soil in a sunny location.

Foliage Deciduous
Form Round
Mature Size 5 x 4m
Family Moraceae

Small

Deciduous

Round

Feature Foliage

Fruiting & Edible

Group Planting

Informal Screening

Disclaimer: The material contained on the Speciality Trees website is for general information only. Although much care has been taken to provide the information on its website, Speciality Trees does not warrant the accuracy, completeness or currency of this information and its suitability to your needs. All material listed on the Speciality Trees website, its associated links and product sheets are varieties either ready for sale or in production. This is an information source and not confirmation of availability. It is strongly recommended that users enquire about product availability independently of this source.