Laurus nobilis 'Miles Choice'

HEDGING BAY TREE

This Bay tree offers a more compact form and grows slightly smaller than the traditional Bay Tree to around 7m tall, with denser, glossy, dark green foliage. As its common name suggests, it is a perfect option for privacy hedging around pools or as a clipped hedge along paths and driveways. An added bonus is its fragrant leaves that can be used in cooking.

Ideal for containers and topiary, this selection can also be used for hedging as it responds well to pruning. Leaves are fragrant and can be used in cooking.

Prefers a sunny position in moist, well-drained soil. Fertilise annually.
