Magnolia laevifolia Cinderella™ 'PARCIND' (syn. Michelia)

This is a beautiful little evergreen Magnolia. It's compact, tidy form lends itself well to creating an easily maintained, neat and tidy flowering hedge. Deep green, leathery foliage gives a year-round lush appearance, and a display of lightly fragrant, creamy-white flowers appear in two flushes per year - late winter-spring and again in late summer-autumn.

These trees look great as a single planted specimen or in multiples forming a perfumed hedge.

They grow best in well-drained soils and can be lightly pruned in early spring to retain shape if required.
