

Olea europaea 'Correggiola'

CORREGGIOLA OLIVE

This tree has leather-like thin leaves which are green with silver undersides. Small delicate cream flowers are followed by green fruits turning purple-black when ripe. The fruit is edible.

Great in a grove planting if room, otherwise plant it for contrast colour of foliage. This is an edible fruit tree.

Olives flourish where there is good drainage and cool winters, and hot dry summers without humidity. Prefers a humus rich soil.
