Thuja plicata fastigiata

Foliage	Evergreen
Form	Fastigiate
Mature Size	10-12 x 1.5m
Family	Cupressaceae

UPRIGHT WESTERN RED CEDAR TREE (ARBORVITAE)

A relatively fast grower, reaching approximately 5m in the first 10 years. Mid green horizontal branchlets droop slightly and the lush, cedar-scented foliage is flat and dense in habit making it ideal for creating a privacy screen or windbreak in a small space as it will reach a width of only 1.5 metres. It has a compact conical, upright growth habit and responds well to pruning, even reshooting from bare wood after a hard prune. Thuja is immune to canker disease.

Used widely as a hedging or screening tree especially in narrow areas. Used as a design feature in gardens especially along fence lines.

Will tolerate most soils in a full sun to part shade position. Grows best in cooler climates of Australia, and is not susceptible to canker.
