Viburnum odoratissimum 'Awabuki'

AWABUKI SWEET VIBURNUM TREE

This is a stout shrub-like tree best known for its beautiful fragrant white flowers borne in clusters in Spring and Summer. Following the flowers, a highly ornamental display of red berries appears which turn to black as they ripen. It has glossy bright green foliage which is large, leathery and oval in shape.

Can be used for hedging or as a feature for smaller gardens. A fast-growing species, suitable for hedging that can quickly form a dense screen, rounded shrub or small tree.

Prefers moist well drained soils in full sun to part shade. One of the few viburnums that thrive in warm to hot climates.
